Riyanshu Sharma

Campus Ambassador at Bunktobrain
Greater Delhi Area

Summary

Currently pursuing my B.Tech in Computer Science (Data Science) at GGSIPU, I am a dedicated learner who loves exploring the intersection of raw data and innovative technology. My passion for tech started early, participating in numerous computing workshops and building a solid foundation in Python and data management tools. But I believe technical skills are only half the equation. Having served as a Prefect for two years, I learned how to lead by example, communicate effectively, and manage responsibilities—skills I bring into every collaborative project I tackle today. I am excited to deepen my knowledge in Data Science and am always open to conversations about tech trends, collaborative projects, and emerging innovations..
